

1st Annual Electricity Camp in the Rockies

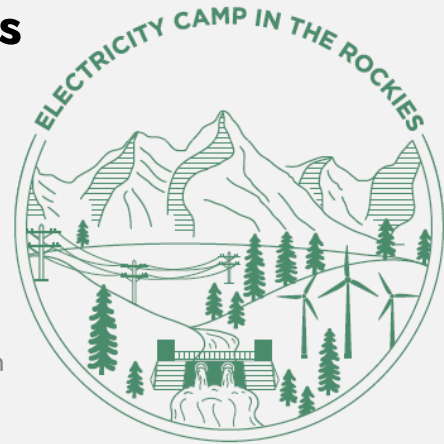

A workshop on electricity markets and policy

Kananaskis Village, Alberta

June 16-18, 2022

Organized by the University of Calgary

With support from the University of Alberta, Social Science and Humanities Research Council, Alberta Electric System Operator, Canadian Energy Regulator, Market Surveillance Administrator, and Canadian Association of Energy Economists

Aims and Scope

The objective of the workshop is to bring together academics, policy makers, and practitioners to discuss leading research and policy developments related to electricity markets. The workshop is deliberately kept small to encourage more dialogue and relationship-building.

Organizers

Blake Shaffer, Erica Myers, Megan Bailey, Sara Hastings-Simon, Andrew Leach

Keynote Speakers

- Severin Borenstein, University of Berkeley
- Meredith Fowlie, University of Berkeley
- Jesse Jenkins, Princeton University
- Melissa Lott, Columbia University

Prospective Participants

- Scholars are invited to submit abstracts by email to blake.shaffer@ucalgary.ca. Papers should be focused on electricity markets with a particular emphasis on policy. Deadline for submission is March 18, 2022.
- Practitioners and policy makers are invited to email blake.shaffer@ucalgary.ca to inquire about opportunities to attend the workshop. To encourage fulsome discussion and active engagement, the workshop size will be limited to 50.

Venue

The workshop will be held at the Pomeroy Kananaskis Mountain Lodge in Kananaskis Village, a 1 hour drive from Calgary International Airport. The workshop program will begin Thursday evening (June 16) and be completed by midday on Saturday (June 18). An updated program will be shared with participants prior to the event.
